Meeting 1

Course	TMA3084 Software Engineering Laboratory
Date & Time	7 Oct 2026, 12:00-12:30pm
Meeting Agenda	Interviewing a client
Attendees	All members attended + Client

Booking & Scheduling

Current Channel	• Customer book through WhatsApp. • Second option would be social media (but not as much as WhatsApp)
Advance Time	• Usually new clients always go for last minute (a day before) regular clients book in advance
Pain Points	• Last min cancellations happen a lot. • Client's policy: deposit burn as compensation to the cancellation

Services & Nail Art Customization

Service Types	• Customers mostly ask for gel and extensions
Custom Design Process	• Customers often send reference before appointments so client can prepare before
Customization Challenges	• Most of the time customers tend to change their mind on what designs they want during appointments, so hard to estimate time required for appointments

Customer Preferences

Popular Services	• Extensions is the most popular style among client's customers
Decision Factors	• For new customers, tend to care about the price. • For regular customers, they come back because of the quality (nails last very long)

Reminders & Attendance

Current Process	• Client usually reminds them manually via WhatsApp a day before their appointment
Pain Points	• Sometimes client forgets to remind, customers are the one who remind her instead

Sales, Payment & Stock Tracking

Sales Recording	• Client uses a separate bank account for the business so can track in and out transactions easily
Payment Methods	• Client accepts every payment method, sometimes QR code, sometimes cash
Main Friction Point	• Customers sometimes request something that client do not have, causes her to lose track of spendings at times when catering to a customer's request

Extra app feature or detail

- In-app calendar reminder for clients to show her availability and slots
